Mr. Broderick stated that a meeting of the trustees, all zoning members and all legal advisors will be held Feb. 24, 1982, at 7:30 P.M.

Maggie Kube presented the trustees with a petition of 402 names requesting that the book store on Route 8 not be allowed to do business. She introduced Virginia Vernon, Chairman of Concerned Citizens for Summit County. She stated that pornography was a big business and that cities were passing laws to prohibit same. Pornographers will not give up easily as they have money to back them and law officers are not too eager to get involved. She said that you would have to see the articles sold before you could really believe what is going on. She presented a news letter and asked that everyone take one.

The question was asked who gave the permit to open a book store and allowed a septic system to be put in. Mr. Don Matusz stated that he had to give a permit as there is nothing in the township's zoning laws against book stores. The EPA and Summit County Health Board gave the permit for the septic system.

Mr. Pullekens stated that he would get in touch with Mr. Roberto, Cuyahoga Falls prosecuting attorney and ask him to attend a township meeting. He said that making officials aware of the dissent of township residents through petitions and letters would be beneficial. The township should let the officials know what the standards of the people are and what is offensive to them.

Mr. Matusz stated that the signs on this property are within the regulations of the zoning laws. The cars parked on the lot do not violate zoning laws.

The problem of selling to minors should be at the discretion of the store clerk. Boycotting stores which sell offensive material would help.

The trustees agreed to do all they could to alleviate the problem. All residents would be informed of the meeting with Mr. Roberto.

A park representative stated that his organization was very much interested in what was going on.

A motion by Broderick, seconded by Fisher, to erect Stop Signs at the railroad crossing in Boston. Voting yes: Fisher, Broderick, Schneider.

The meeting adjourned at 8:25 P.M.

The Summit County Engineer will be asked to attend a meeting regarding the Peninsula Station per his letter. Bids for rubbish pick up will be accepted up to March 23, 1982, at 7:00 P.M.
